WHAT IS HUMAN TRAFFICKING

We work to meet the acute, immediate and long-term resource and support needs of persons affected by human trafficking, including survivors, their families and communities, as well as persons who may be at risk of exploitation for the purposes of sexual exploitation, labour exploitation or organ removal / harvest.

We also offer training for traditional service providers (such as law enforcement, health care professionals, social workers, etc.), as well as non-traditional service providers (such as the hotel and hospitality sector, the transportation sector, etc.) to educate them on the indicators of human trafficking and appropriate responses.

Human trafficking involves the recruitment, transportation, harbouring and/ or exercising control, direction or influence over the movements of a person in order to exploit that person, typically through sexual exploitation or forced labour.

It is often described as a modern form of slavery.

IT HAPPENS HERE.

THIS IS WHO WE ARE

The Ottawa Coalition To End Human Trafficking (OCEHT) is a community-based, volunteer network of local organizations, service providers and community members that represent a variety of sectors. Our work is supported through funding grants and private donations that are made to St. Joe's Women's Centre, and dispersed to the Coalition appropriately.

DID YOU KNOW?

Globally, it is estimated that human trafficking is amongst the most lucrative of criminal activities, rivaled only by drug and firearms trafficking and generating billions of dollars annually for sophisticated criminal organizations.
